

T CHILD & FAMILY STUDIES
Colloquium
FALL 2019 SERIES

Color, Class and Coal

SPOKEN NARRATIVES ON EDUCATION, WORK AND COMMUNITY LIFE
IN MOUNT HOPE, WEST VIRGINIA

Michael Nobel Kline, Ph.D | Carrie Nobel Kline, M.A.

October 15, 2019
3:00-4:30

STUDENT UNION | ROOM 169

HTTP://BIT.LY/CFSKLINE

PRESENTED BY

T CHILD & FAMILY STUDIES

Color, Class & Coal

Join us to hear the layered story of race and class in a West Virginia coal town in the 1950s-'70s, recounted by alumni 50 years later in an exercise of truth and reconciliation. Hear recorded voices from Michael and Carrie Kline's Talking Across the Lines podcast recalling school integration, football, cheerleading, and the ongoing presence of coal mining, amplified by the ethnographers' reflections and punctuated by live Appalachian music.

HTTP://BIT.LY/CFSKLINE

